

Red Clay Ranch is committed to providing luxurious and distinct accommodations for both equestrians, non riders, and nature enthusiasts.

Red Clay Ranch is passionate about designing and building a property that provides housing for both horse, rider and nonriders. The housing accommodations will be a variety of offerings including luxury glamping tents, park model cabins, and rustic glamping tents. On site recreational and equestrian amenities will be designed to fit the needs of everyone.

Red Clay Ranch will cater to the experimental traveler looking to experience both nature and modern luxury. The lure that is Aiken for equestrians will meet the lure that is the great outdoors on our property.

Red Clay Ranch will offer a glamping experience focused on equestrians, but open to all, with amenities for everyone. Park model log cabins will offer guests a traditional camping experience with all the comforts of home. The luxury safari style tents or glamping sites, will be in carefully engineered pods for maximum privacy and enjoyment. They will come with a fully equipped kitchenette, full bath, electricity, heat and air conditioning. This will provide an unparalleled stay experience and provide a competitive edge in the local market. Luxury safari tents, in aesthetically pleasing designs, will afford all the comforts of home while providing a sense of adventure, luxury, relaxation.

The Red Clay Ranch equestrian portion will consist of individualized paddock and comfortable barn space. These will be easily customizable for short or long term rental stay. Riding arenas, trails, conditioning tracks, and cross country schooling opportunities will be available.

Summer camp programming for families looking to have a traditional camp experience will be available. Camps focusing on horseback riding, family camps, and nature based camps will be offered throughout the summer months.
